

Class of 2011 - Banner

Every year at Queen of Angels, our eighth grade students think of a motto to represent their class philosophy. Each student also offers a piece of him/herself as part of the project. A banner is completed with the help of parents and advisors. This year's banner and those from previous classes are hanging in the halls of the school.

